Ilma Nisfer

BSc(Hons) in Chemistry (Reading) at Rajarata University of Sri Lanka

Kalutara District, Western Province, Sri Lanka

Summary

I am a passionate and goal-oriented undergraduate in Chemistry with a solid foundation in analytical, organic, and physical chemistry. Through extensive laboratory work and coursework, I have developed strong skills in experimental techniques, chemical synthesis, and spectroscopic analysis. My academic journey has also included hands-on experience in areas such as coordination complexes, green chemistry, and material characterization.

Throughout my undergraduate years, I have actively contributed to various student organizations, taking on leadership roles that helped me strengthen my communication, teamwork, and problem-solving abilities. These experiences, combined with my scientific background, have shaped me into a well-rounded individual capable of approaching challenges with both technical insight and strategic thinking.

I am enthusiastic about joining a forward-thinking organization or research environment where I can apply my knowledge, grow professionally, and contribute to impactful chemical innovations and sustainable solutions.
